ANSWER

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF CHEMICALS AND FERTILIZERS

(SMT. ANUPRIYA PATEL)

(a): The Pharmaceuticals and Medical Devices Bureau of India (PMBI), which is the implementation agency for the Pradhan Mantri Bhartiya Janaushadhi Pariyojana scheme, assesses on an ongoing basis the manufacturing, supply and distribution requirements for Jan Aushadhi Kendras (JAKs) in the country and associates manufacturers and suppliers and appoints distributors as required. For supply of Janaushadhi products across the country, currently a total of 194 pharmaceutical manufacturers are associated with PMBI. For smooth supply and product availability at Jan Aushadhi Kendras (JAKs), an end-to-end IT-enabled supply chain system has been established, comprising of one central warehouse at Gurugram and four regional warehouses at Bengaluru, Guwahati, Chennai and Surat. Further, 39 distributors have been appointed across the country to strengthen the supply chain system, State- and Union-territory-wise details in respect of which are at Annexure.

(b): Selection of manufacturers and suppliers are being done at the centralised level through an open tendering process, using the Central Public Procurement Portal (CPPP) for rate contracts. Further, distributors are appointed based on requirement by inviting Expressions of Interest (EoI). Whenever there is requirement, an invitation for EoI/tenders is uploaded on the website of PMBI (www.janaushadhi.gov.in) for authorised distributorship.

(c): To ensure supply and adequate availability of medicines at JAKs, PMBI has set up a network of five warehouses at Gurugram, Chennai, Guwahati, Bengaluru and Surat. Besides, there are four distributors in Uttar Pradesh. JAKs have a choice to place orders from any of the five warehouses or distributors through an online system.
