- (b) if so, whether the Government has formulated any plan to tackle this situation;
- (c) the plan formulated by the Government to provide an alternative to the rising urbanisation;
- (d) whether the Government proposes to fix any accountability in consultation with concerned ministries and if so, the details thereof; and
- (e) the details of proposals received from various States under urban and infrastructure development schemes and the details of the proposals cleared, funds sanctioned and works undertaken under these schemes during each of the last three years and the current year, city and State-wise?

CONT...

ANSWER
THE MINISTER OF URBAN DEVELOPMENT
(SHRI M. VENKAIAH NAIDU)

(a) to (c): Urbanisation data is available from Census of India. Between the census periods of 2001 and 2011, the population of the country has increased to 31.8% in urban areas. As per Census, 2011, the increase in total number of statutory towns in the country is 242 in the last 10 years. Rapid urbanisation has created pressure on infrastructure, land, housing etc. in our cities. The Government views this as an opportunity for economic development. Urban Development is a State Subject. Government of India supports the efforts of State Governments by implementing various schemes and by providing technical and financial assistance to States. The Government has launched programmes of (i) The Smart City Mission aims to cover 100 cities in the country for improving infrastructure and services including smart solutions and area based development. (ii) Atal Mission for Rejuvenation and Urban Transformation (AMRUT), covering 500 cities of the country having population more than 1 lakh and other identified categories, provides financial assistance to Mission cities for water supply, liquid waste management, development of city parks and non motorized transport. (iii) The Swachh Bharat Mission (SBM) covers all urban local bodies of the country and provides financial assistance for construction of individual household toilets, community and public toilets and for scientific management of solid waste.

(d): Question does not arise.

(e): The funds released under flagship schemes of Ministry of Urban Development are given in annexure I to III.
