(a) to (e) A major initiative taken by the Government is to launch the National Labour Market Information System (LMIS) on 15th July, 2017. The National LMIS is envisaged as a single platform for skill development related data. The data on National LMIS is displayed in the form of 10 national repositories namely trainers, training centres, training providers, assessors, assessment agencies, employers, trained candidates, courses, certifying agencies and prospective candidates.

To meet the requirements of the industry, the Government provides long term training through Industrial Training Institutes (ITIs) in 135 trades and short term training through the flagship scheme of Pradhan Mantri Kaushal Vikas Yojana (PMKVY) in 221 job-roles including Carpenter and Plumbing.
