- (b) the proposals under consideration of the Government for setting up of more such courts along with the present status thereof, State-wise;
- (c) whether the Government proposes to set up dedicated courts to deal with cases of crimes against women;
- (d) if so, the details and the present status thereof; and
- (e) whether the Government also intends to appoint women judges/ prosecutors in such courts and if so, the details thereof and the reasons therefor?

ANSWER

Minister of State for Law & Justice and Corporate Affairs (SHRI P.P. CHAUDHARY)

(a): As per details received from the National Commission for Protection of Child Rights (NCPCR), 620 Special Courts have been designated under the Protection of Children from Sexual Offences (POCSO) Act, 2012. The details regarding the number of such courts and cases reported under the Act during the years 2014-2016, Statewise, are given in Annexure-I.

As per information received from the National Crime Records Bureau (NCRB), the details of cases relating to crimes against women which are registered, trials completed and cases pending for the years 2014, 2015 and 2016, State-wise, is given in Annexure-II.

(b) to (d): The 14th Finance Commission had endorsed the proposal of the Government for strengthening the judicial system in states, which, inter-alia, included establishing 1800 Fast Track Courts (FTCs) for dealing with cases of heinous crimes; cases involving senior citizens, women, children, persons with mental disability and having terminal illness etc. and urged the State Governments to use the additional fiscal space provided in the 14th Finance Commission's award in the form of enhanced tax devolution to the states (from 32% to 42%) to meet their funding requirements.

Recently, the Government of India has promulgated 'The Criminal Law (Amendment) Ordinance, 2018 which has, inter alia, effected amendments in the IPC, Cr. PC, The Indian Evidence Act and the POCSO Act, and has brought in stringent provisions for expeditious trial and disposal of cases involving crimes against women and children.

(e): The selection and appointment of judicial officers and prosecutors in subordinate courts is the responsibility of the High Courts and the State Governments respectively. The recruitment of judicial officers in some States is done by respective High Courts, whereas in other States the High Courts do it in consultation with the State Public Service Commissions. As per available information, some states have provided reservation quota for appointment of women in the subordinate judiciary and the state-wise status of reservation for women in the subordinate judiciary, as per information available, is given in Annexure -III.
