(a) to (c): Section 16 of the Right of Children to Free and Compulsory Education (RTE) Act, 2009 provides that `No child admitted in a school shall be held back in any class or expelled from school till the completion of elementary education.'

In pursuance of a resolution adopted in the 59th meeting of the Central Advisory Board of Education (CABE) held on 6th June, 2012, and in subsequent meeting of CABE held on 25th October, 2016, it was decided that the Central Government may bring in suitable amendment to Section 16 of the RTE Act, 2009 related to the 'No Detention' provision. The Right of Children to Free and Compulsory Education (Second Amendment) Bill, 2017 was, accordingly introduced in Lok Sabha on 11th

August, 2017. The Right of Children to Free and Compulsory Education (Amendment) Bill, 2018 to amend `No Detention' provision in the RTE Act, 2009 has been passed by Lok Sabha on 18th July, 2018. The Bill is now pending in the Rajya Sabha.

The Bill seeks to substitute Section 16 of the Act so as to provide for (i) a regular examination in the fifth class and in the eighth class at the end of every academic year, (ii) additional instruction if a child fails in the regular examination and opportunity for re-examination within a period of two months from the date of declaration of the result, and (iii) empowering the appropriate Government to allow schools whether to hold back a child in the fifth class or in the eighth class or in both classes, or not to hold back a child in any class, till the completion of elementary education.
