- (c) whether the domestic production of Coal is sufficient for domestic consumption in India and if so, the details thereof; and
- (d) the details of amount and cost of total coal imports by the country during the last five years?

ANSWER

MINISTER OF PARLIAMENTARY AFFAIRS, COAL AND MINES
(SHRI PRALHAD JOSHI)

(a) No, Sir.

(b & c): Demand/consumption of coal is higher than the current level of supply of coal in the country. Presently, Coal producing entities in the country are not competing in the international market. During the year 2018-19, as against a total actual demand /consumption of coal of 969.47 MT (Provisional), the domestic supply was 734.23 MT (Provisional) and coal import was 235.24 MT (Provisional).

(d) The details of value and import of coal during the last five years is given below:-

Year	2014-15	2015-16	2016-17	2017-18	2018-19 (Provisional)
Total Import (MT)	217.78	203.95	190.95	208.27	235.24
Value of Import (in Rs Crores)	104507	86034	100231	138477	170881
