ANSWER

THE MINISTER OF STATE FOR JALSHAKTI
(SHRI PRAHLAD SINGH PATEL)

(a) & (b) Water is a State subject. Government of India supplements the efforts of State Governments by providing financial and technical assistance. It is States, who plan, approve, implement, operate and maintain drinking water supply schemes.

Till 2019, the Government of India in partnership with States, was implementing National Rural Drinking Water Program (NRDWP) for improving the coverage of drinking water supply in the rural areas of the country. Thereafter, Jal Jeevan Mission (JJM) was launched in 2019 to provide tap water supply to every rural household of the country by 2024. The details of individual scheme/ projects under JJM (erstwhile NRDWP) in States are approved, implemented and maintained by the respective State Government or its agency, responsible for the implementation in the field.

The year-wise details of total fund allocation made and the quantum of fund utilized under NRDWP/JJM, as reported by State of Andhra Pradesh, are at Annex.
