(e): Under PMEGP, once an application is submitted by an applicant, a scrutiny is carried out by Implementing agencies before the application is forwarded to the Bank for taking a credit decision. Banks appraise the projects and take their own credit decision on the basis of viability of each project. Therefore, the final sanction and release of loan is done at the level of the concerned Bank. The Government provides financial assistance in the form of Margin Money (MM) Subsidy to successful beneficiaries whose projects have been duly sanctioned by the Banks subject to availability of funds under PMEGP and in accordance with the prescribed guidelines.
