(b) The extant Fee Rules (National Highways Fee (Determination of Rates and Collection) Rules, 2008) for levy of Fee for services or benefits rendered on National Highways, was formulated in the year 2008, ensuring more transparency and certainty in the determination of user fee rates, with a uniform methodology for calculating user fees across the country. As such, the user fee is collected at a fee plaza for the use of any completed section of National Highway as per the fee notification published in the Gazette of India in accordance with the provisions of National Highways Fee Rules. Further, collection of user fee at fee plazas on National Highways is not related to the recovery of project development cost.
