- (b) If so, the details thereof; and
- (c) The reaction of the Government as well as the Corporate Sector in this regard?

ANSWER

MINISTER OF STATE (INDEPENDENT CHARGE) FOR MINISTRY OF PLANNING AND MINISTER OF STATE FOR DEFENCE
(RAO INDERJIT SINGH)

- (a) & (b): Yes, Madam. The Expert Committee on Innovation and Entrepreneurship under the Chairmanship of Prof. Tarun Khanna, Director, South Asia Institute, Harvard University, USA has submitted its report in October, 2015. One of the recommendations of the Expert Committee is as under:
“1% of corporate profit could be directed towards research labs in universities and/ or industry-university collaborative research. The government could provide some tax benefits against this. Monitoring of this rule should focus not only on the absolute amount channelled into universities, but also on the efficiency of spending, that is, it needs to be output-rather than input-oriented. The idea here is that universities become the breeding ground for new technology/ ideas that can be used by the corporate sector. Firms would implicitly be outsourcing R&D - financing development of products/ services that can be bought by them. In that sense, this financing would be perceived as absolutely core and fundamental to a firm’s operations, rather than as a CSR-related activity. Though the actual development of R&D may take some time, beginning the involvement of the corporate sector in the financing of universities could be achieved relatively quickly”.
- (c) A Mission High Level Committee (MHLC) of Atal Innovation Mission (AIM) has been constituted to consider the recommendations of the Expert Committee. NITI Aayog has not received any response from the corporate sector.
