- (f) the guidelines in place to regulate flights of these planes and the steps proposed to be taken to manage likely increase in number of their flights in future?

ANSWER

Minister of State in the Ministry of CIVIL AVIATION
नागर विमानन मंत्रालय में राज्य मंत्री

(Shri Jayant Sinha)

- (a) No, Madam. There are a total of 1484 aircrafts registered in the country. Out of these, a small number of only 181 aircraft do not have valid Airworthiness Review Certificate and cannot undertake flight. The details of the aircrafts including airlines aircrafts not having valid Airworthiness Review Certificate are given in Annexure 'A' and Annexure 'B'. DGCA has not fixed any age criteria for operation of aircraft. Aircraft having valid Airworthiness Review Certificate can undertake operation irrespective of its age.

(b) Separate survey has not been carried out in this regard. The information provided above has been collected from the records already available with the DGCA.

(c) DGCA has not directed any airlines for replacement of old aircraft.

(d) Fleet expansion is an ongoing process which is need based. Alliance Air, a subsidiary of Air India has recently inducted 7 more aircrafts in its fleet which are already serving smaller routes within the country.

(e) There are a total of 328 private chartered jets/planes registered with the DGCA. Out of these, 114 are private aircraft and 214 are chartered for passenger operation (under non-schedule operator's permit). Details are given in Annexure 'C' and 'D'.

(f) DGCA has issued the following guidelines for regulating the operation of private chartered jets/ planes.

1. Civil Aviation Requirements (CAR), Section 3, Series C, Part III for non-scheduled air transport services and Section 8, Series O, Part II on Commercial Air Transport operation (which includes non-scheduled operation).

2. CAR, Section 8 Series O, Part III on General Aviation (which includes private plane operation).
