Will the Minister of CIVIL AVIATION

नागर विमानन मंत्री

be pleased to state:-

- (a) whether the Directorate General of Civil Aviation (DGCA) has recently amended more than two decade old rules to allow domestic airlines to import aircraft up to 18 years old, if so, the details thereof;
- (b) whether aircraft which are more than 15 years old were allowed to be imported till now and the reasons for importing the aircraft of 18 years old;
- (c) whether importing of 18 years old aircraft would be more risky for use and compromise safety and security of air passengers, if so, the details thereof;
- (d) whether the Government has assessed its likely impact on regional connectivity scheme, if so, the details thereof;
- (e) the number and types of various aircraft with public and private airlines along with their age, airline-wise;
- (f) the aircraft imported/purchased during the last three years and the current year, year-wise along with names of supplier companies;
- (g) whether the country would require 1850 new aircraft including 10 regional jets and 280 wide-body planes in view of high domestic air traffic growth and to support the growth of low-cost airlines and replace the ageing fleet of airlines and whether the single-aisle planes would account for the largest share of new deliveries; and
- (h) if so, the details thereof and the details of ongoing deals with various aircraft manufacturing companies for procurement of civilian aircraft?

ANSWER

Minister of State in the Ministry of CIVIL AVIATION

नागर विमानन मंत्रालय में राज्य मंत्री

(Shri Jayant Sinha)

(a): Yes Madam, DGCA has recently revised the regulation, Civil Aviation Requirements (CAR) Section 2, series F, part XX Rev. 5 dated 17th June 2016 and enabled import of aircraft up-to 18 years old. The details of revision in the CAR Section 2, series F, part XX Rev. 5 dated 17th June 2016 is enclosed as Annex-1.

(b): Prior to revision of CAR Section 2, series F, part XX the unpressured aircraft of more than 15 years of age were allowed to import on case to case basis for passenger use and pressured aircraft of more than 25 years age were allowed to be imported aircraft for cargo operation after assessing the suitability of aircraft with the approval.

The requirement relating to the age of the aircraft eligible for import was reviewed based on the representation received from the stakeholders.

(c): No Madam, Importing of 18 years old aircraft would not be more risky for use from safety and security of air passengers aspect, as the criteria for the import of these aircraft have been made more restrictive as under:

(i) Before import, aircraft should have flown 100 hrs within the preceding 6 months, so as to ensure continued airworthiness of the aircraft.

(ii) Design economical life (pressurization cycle) covered before import has been reduced from 75% to 50%, so as to ensure operation of the aircraft for longer period.

Besides the above, these aircraft are required to obtain Certificate of Airworthiness from DGCA prior to their operation.

(d): No such assessment has been carried out by Ministry of Civil Aviation.

(e): Total number of aircraft operated by public and private airlines are 464. The details of the aircraft, airline wise are given in the Annex-2 and age of these aircraft ranges from less than 1 year to 27 years.

(f): The details of aircraft imported/purchased during the last three years and the current year are 270. The details along with names of supplier companies are given in the Annex-3.

(g) & (h): There is no such information available in Directorate General of Civil Aviation (DGCA).

CIVIL AVIATION REQUIREMENTS
SECTION 2 – AIRWORTHINESS
SERIES F PART XX
ISSUE II, 29TH JULY 1993

EFFECTIVE: FORTHWITH

Subject: Age of Aircraft to be imported for Scheduled/ Non-Scheduled including Charter, General Aviation and other Operations.

1. INTRODUCTION

Civil Aviation Requirements series F part III specifies the condition to be complied with by operators before importing used aircraft. This part of the Civil Aviation Requirement lays down the age criteria of aircraft to be imported for scheduled/ non-scheduled / charter and other operations. For the purpose of this CAR "other operations" includes but not limited to use of aircraft for State, Aerial work, private purpose and flying training activities.

2. BACKGROUND

Since the publication of this CAR more than two decades ago, studies were conducted by international aviation community on the correlation between fatal accidents and age of the aircraft. Such studies have not clearly established that there is a correlation between accident rate and aircraft age up till eighteen years. Considering that Modern commercial air transport jet aircraft are significant economic assets that can have an effective economic useful life of decades, the restriction imposed on import of aged aircraft is cautiously revised.

3. APPLICABILITY

It has been observed that private operators are keen to bring aircraft which are very old, sometimes even exceeding twenty years in age. It must be appreciated that normally manufacturers of jet aircraft prescribed a design economic life for their aircraft which extend to 20 years or 60,000 landings/pressurization cycles. The purpose behind having this minimum standard in the life of the aircraft is to ensure that the aircraft does not have problems of corrosion, fatigue, metal fatigue, cracks etc, in areas which are normally not accessible during even major checks. It is with a view to check the age related problems of the aircraft that the manufacturers indicate a design-economic life in terms of years and pressurization cycles for the jet aircraft.

While certain aircraft may be operating in the airlines of their countries even beyond this age, these are exceptions and they may be operating in the airlines to which they entered service. As the airline operating such aircraft are fully aware of the entire history of the aircraft and are thoroughly familiar with the various services, it has undergone and the environment in which it has operated, they are able to maintain aircraft beyond the designed economic life. Nevertheless, they carry out major modifications/ inspections as per programs issued by manufacturers/ regulatory authorities of the country concerned. This kind of knowledge and product support are not available in India in respect of aircraft which have not seen service in this country with any airline. Therefore, after detailed consultations amongst technical experts in the Director General of Civil Aviation, it has been now decided as follows:-

3.1 Pressurised Aircraft intended to be imported and used in scheduled, non-scheduled and general aviation operation shall have flown at least for 100 Hours during last six months and should not have completed;

- i) 15 years of age or 75% of design economic life or 45000 pressurisation cycle or
- ii) 18 years of age or 50% of design economic pressurisation cycle.

3.2. In the case of unpressurised aircraft, the decision will be on a case to case basis and on a complete examination of the record of the aircraft being procured. However, Director General of Civil Aviation would normally not allow such aircraft which are more than 20 years old.

3.3 Aircraft intended to be imported for air cargo operations shall not have completed 25 years in age or 75 percent of its design economic cycles or 45,000 landing cycles.

Note: These requirements will not be applicable for local acquisition of Indian registered aircraft maintained in accordance with DGCA approved procedures which are intended to be acquired for operations mentioned above.

3.4 Aircraft intended to be imported and used for scheduled commercial air transport operation shall have their design economic calendar and operational life clearly established by the holder of type certificate and approved by the state of design. The aircraft shall have supplementary structural inspection document (SSID), Corrosion Prevention, Control Programme (CPCP) and Critical Design Configuration Control Limitations (CDCCL) recommended by the type certificate holder.

4. Details to be furnished for import of aircraft

All persons desirous of importing aircraft are required to furnish the following information:

- (i) Manufacturers certified date of Manufacture of the aircraft.
- (ii) Time since New (TSN) / Time since Overhaul (TSO) of aircraft, engines and life of each module since last overhaul/ refurbishment, and any life limiting features.
- (iii) The history of the airframe Major checks of structure and details of number of landings/ pressurization cycles
- (iv) Details of all significant incidents/accidents in which the aircraft had sustained damage since its induction into service along with the details of repairs that were carried out after these incidents/ accidents to make aircraft airworthy
- (v) Status of compliance of SBs/ modifications and inspections prescribed by manufacturers.
- (vi) Status of compliance of Airworthiness Directives/Mandatory Modifications.
- (vii) Status of compliance of Supplemental Structural Inspection Programme (SSIP), Corrosion Protection Control Programme (CPCP) and Critical Design Configuration Control Limitations (CDCCL).
- (viii) Copy of Type Certificate if the aircraft is first of its type to be imported.
- (ix) Before the import of aircraft which is not operating in India, documents/ manuals given in CAR Section 2 Series 'F' Part III shall be furnished.
- (x) Status of aircraft equipment including mandatory equipment

5. Aircraft, which are entirely new type, will not be allowed to come into India without the operator satisfying the Director General of Civil Aviation about its ability to maintain and operate the aircraft safely. Such preparedness should be established with particular reference to the availability of trained and licensed crew, engineers, technicians and technical maintenance facilities for the maintenance of the aircraft in India.

6. The operator should also import sufficient critical spares recommended by the aircraft manufacturer along with the aircraft, so that the aircraft is maintained in airworthy condition as per Aircraft Act, Rules and Civil Aviation Requirements issued by the Director General of Civil Aviation from time to time.

Director General of Civil Aviation
